Couse of initial Compilation Error:

Creating an array of empty Pirate Type objects without having a default constructor.

Error Message:

error: no matching function for call to 'Pirate::Pirate()

Cannot initialize an object of type Pirate[2]: default constructor is missing

Solution:

Option 1: Creating a default constructor

Option 2: Making pointers array to Pirate object type instead of object Pirate array, and adjusting the letter assignments and print function call accordingly.

Pirate execute Shell output:
